A Convenient, Risk-Managed Way to Make Account-to-Account Transfers Even Faster

TransferNow: Instant Transfers and TransferNow: Next-Day Good Funds from Fiserv help you eliminate credit risk and significantly reduce outbound returns.

As consumers grow more digitally savvy, they're looking for the quickest, easiest and cheapest ways to move money with the touch of a finger. The need for customer convenience and speed is driving forward-thinking financial institutions to expand their online and mobile options to better serve customers and mitigate risk.

Speed Matters

When acquiring new customers in an online environment, you need solutions that help you make fast, effective decisions while meeting regulatory requirements. Solutions that help you grow revenue, reduce losses and improve consumer experiences through faster money movement.

Transfer Funds in Real Time

NOW® Network from Fiserv lets your accountholders transfer money between two instant-enabled accounts at different financial institutions in real-time or by the next day. This removes the credit risk related to ACH-based, next-day services.

TransferNow: Instant Transfers gives you a competitive advantage – and a source of new revenue – by delivering faster money movement consumers want.

As an added benefit, a responsive user interface optimizes user experiences by adapting to different screen sizes including standard and plus-size mobile phones, laptops, desktops and tablets.

Eliminate Credit Risk

TransferNow: Next-Day Good Funds eliminates your credit risk by debiting the instant-enabled account in real time. The credit is sent next day through ACH.
