Data Compass™

Actionable data to drive better experiences and informed decision making

In today's fast-paced financial landscape, institutions are inundated with data. Transforming this vast volume of information into actionable insights can be a demanding challenge. Data Compass from Fiserv – a fully scalable, secure, cloud-based data management solution – engineered to turn your data complexities into strategic opportunities. With Data Compass, you gain seamless, tailored access to your data. Empower your teams with meaningful insights and make informed, data-driven decisions that drive your institution forward.

Amid the rapid evolution of financial services, the need for clear, concise and easy-to-understand data has never been more important. Data Compass ensures financial institutions are not just collecting data, but are also equipped to understand and leverage it. Whether you choose reporting options from Fiserv or plan to bring your own business intelligence tools, Data Compass is the flexible and scalable foundation to support your data strategy now and into the future.

Drive new value for your organization

Fiserv is revolutionizing how financial institutions access, interpret and utilize data, with a cloud-based financial data management solution. Much more than simply moving your data to the cloud, Data Compass provides you with secure access to trusted financial data, while also equipping you with the tools for effective data management and tailored insights.

Consolidate data in the cloud – Simplify how you access and manage Fiserv solution data by leveraging the Snowflake data platform's secure, cloud-native data sharing. With Snowflake as a core requirement for using Data Compass, you can conveniently obtain your license through Fiserv or directly from Snowflake. The business-critical account offering from Snowflake enhances your data strategy by enabling seamless integration of third-party data, and also ensuring compatibility with your preferred business intelligence tools.

Choose your data visualization and reporting tools – View your data using preconfigured dashboards in the Data Compass portal; use Fiserv reporting tools such as Business Analytics or bring your own third-party reporting tool.

Leverage professional services for support – To meet all your service needs, empower our dedicated Professional Services team to implement custom reports and use cases, and assist with your Snowflake requirements. We're here to fully support you every day.
